NEW LOOK WEBSITE CRYSTALISES T H WHITE'S ENERGY FIRE AND SECURITY DIVISION OFFERING

Energy, Fire and Security Systems Specialist Contractor

Anyone considering the installation of a security system, fire safety system or a renewable energy solution will find T H WHITE's new Energy, Fire and Security website a most useful resource when deciding on the options.

T H WHITE specialises in the design and installation of security solutions (including intruder alarms, access control and CCTV) alongside fire safety systems (fire alarms, extinguishers, lighting and fire suppression equipment). The business is also a leader in the installation of renewable energy such as solar PV and battery storage, as well as being one of the few electric vehicle charge point installers in the country installing a full range of charge points for commercial businesses and car parks. All installations are backed by a qualified team of engineers providing service and maintenance contracts, reactive call-out and remote systems monitoring across the whole product portfolio.

T H WHITE Energy, Fire & Security is fully accredited with NSI Gold, BAFE, Achilles, Safe-contractor, NICEIC, ISO9001 and ISO50001. Able to support public and private sector commercial clients with both installations and retro-fits, they have been helping customers make buildings greener, safer and more efficient for generations.

Recently appointed as a GENT Systems Integrator, T H WHITE joins the elite network of fire safety systems suppliers able to provide design, installation, servicing and maintenance of the Honeywell Gent range. Honeywell Gent is an acclaimed marque in the fire safety market and has been a market leader for many years. This new partnership further strengthens the offering from the division.
